Pickfords is the UK's largest storage and removals company. It provides a portfolio of high quality services to a diverse range of clients. They have been established since the 17th century, and today the name is synonymous with international removals, moving and storage for homes and for independent and corporate businesses.

Pickfords has a national network of branches across the country and has the capabilities to cover every postcode in the UK and Ireland. To support this service the company relies on skilled teams who handle the logistical challenge of managing the company's resources.

With new branches being opened and existing ones continuously modernised, Pickfords needs to ensure fire safety and security systems are operated to the highest standard. Real Estate Director, Mike Lamplough, of Pickfords, contacted Assured Fire & Security to equip the new warehouse in Newcastle.

Mike comments "We needed a quality focused company that could provide approved fire, intruder and CCTV systems to protect our new Newcastle facility. Serving the key North East market place it was of paramount importance for the new 40,000 square feet warehouse to have automatic fire and intruder detection throughout the building, along with CCTV surveillance. Remote monitoring to the Police and Fire Brigade was also important to ensure we were protected 24/7, 365 days a year.

Assured were one of the few companies who could provide this on a nationwide level, and they provided a trouble free installation and maintenance service at Newcastle. We have since contracted Assured to provide this same service at other premises nationwide, so when we need new premises protecting we can concentrate on our business while Assured attend to our fire safety and security requirements".

Managing Director at Assured, Simon Stokes, added "We are proud to provide a service to such a well-known, quality company. Our nationwide network of engineers and consultants ensure that when our customers require a speedy response within the UK we are on hand to provide a solution".

Assured Fire & Security provide approved Fire Alarms, Intruder Alarms, Access Control, CCTV, Fire Extinguishers, and many more associated services nationwide.
